

Mr Raymond Poon

As a Customer Solutions Architect for Cisco Systems HK, Mr Raymond Poon is the lead for Cisco Internet of Everything vision locally representing the largest network communication company in the world. He has over 15 years of experience in the wire and wireless data networking and communication technologies. His daily role involves closely dealing with large property developers, power utilities, retail and logistics business listening to their challenges and provide digital transformational advice for improving business operation.

