

Tim Nan

Business Development Director

Cisco Systems

Tim Nan is a Business Development Director within the Global Security Sales Organisation in Cisco. His focus is developing market awareness for the Cisco security portfolio in Greater China. Prior to Cisco, Tim had been in Greater China business development roles for RSA and Symantec. With over 10 years experience, Tim has worked on key security projects for enterprises across various vertical segments, government, and defence agencies ranging from network security, messaging security, end point security, and fraud prevention.